Water is not just the elixir that makes life possible at all, but also one of the global hotbeds of conflicts in the future. The project “Memory of the Waters” was premiered in 2001 as production of the German National Radio SWR for the International Danube Festival in Ulm (Germany). It symbolizes this connection musically and visually. “Memory of the Waters” is connecting the rich musical treasures of Dissidenten with the avant-garde compositions of Uve Müllrich and impressive video installations. The premiere in Ulm included more than 100 musicians on stage, including guest soloists like Charlie Mariano and Manickam Yogeswaran. Meanwhile, the number of musicians to realize “The Memory of the Waters” has been brought to a possible level that allows special festival concerts in many places. 4 musicians of Dissidenten, the choir (12 singers) and the orchestra (16 musicians) take us on a journey to the origins.
